

HUNTERS IN THE OHIO VALLEY & FORT STEUBEN

Andrew van Swearingen was a hunter who was legendary in the Ohio Valley for hunting, tracking, Indian lore and all the skills a frontiersman could need. He was a great help to Fort Steuben's commander, Capt. John Francis Hamtramck and US Geographer Thomas Hutchins. It was said that his brother, Marmaduke, had been captured by the Shawnee, adopted into the tribe, and became their greatest war-chief, "Blue Jacket." In Shawnee his name was Wehyehpihehrsehnwah. How many words can you make from the letters of his Shawnee name?

---

---

---

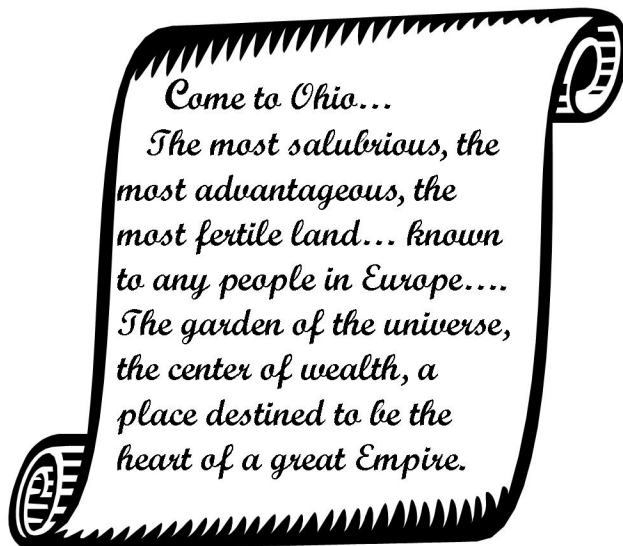

---

---

---

Land companies used many words to describe the new lands that were being sold. Can you define these?

Salubrious:

Advantageous:

Fertile:

Destined:

HISTORIC FORT STEUBEN
 120 S. THIRD STREET
 STEUBENVILLE OH 43952
 740-283-1787
 info@oldfortsteuben.com
 www.oldfortsteuben.com

OPEN MAY-OCTOBER
 MON-SAT 10-4, SUN 12-4

KNAPSACK SCABBARD
 BUCKLE POWDER
 SHIRT OVERALLS
 FLINT CANTEN
 RAMROD CARTRIDGE
 MUSKET BAYONET
 COAT SHOES
 SCRAMBLED SUPPLIES:

ANSWER BOX: